Dr. Rando’s publications pertain to the clinical aspects of psychology, thanatology, and traumatology. Her focus is to provide clear, specific, and practical information to explicate the issue at hand (usually from among mental health issues relating to loss, grief, illness, injury, dying, death, bereavement, disaster, and trauma, as well as stress reactions of first responders and medical personnel) and/or to educate professionals and/or lay audiences on how to most therapeutically contend with or intervene in the issue.
